Goblins in Disguise

“There’s a cool costume store!” Kirsty Tate said, pointing at one of the stores on Cherrywell’s busy main street.

“Fun!” Rachel Walker replied happily. “Let’s go pick out costumes for Isabel’s Halloween party before the bus comes.”

“OK,” Kirsty agreed. She was staying at Rachel’s house for the week, and the girls had just gone bowling with some of Rachel’s friends from school. One of them, Isabel, had invited everyone to a Halloween party over the weekend. “What do you want to dress up as?” Kirsty asked Rachel.

“Something magical, of course!” Rachel replied with a grin.

Kirsty smiled back. She and Rachel loved magic. It was because they shared an amazing secret: They were friends with the fairies!

Their magical adventures had started one summer. The girls had helped the fairies stop mean Jack Frost from taking the color out of Fairyland. Since then, the Fairy King and Queen had asked for their help again and again. In fact, Rachel and Kirsty were right in the middle of another fairy adventure. Jack Frost was still causing trouble!

This time, he’d stolen seven sparkling jewels from Queen Titania’s crown. The jewels were very special because they controlled important fairy powers, like the ability to fly, or to give children in the human world sweet dreams. Every year, in a special celebration, the fairies recharged their wands with the jewels’ magic. This year’s ceremony was just around the corner. If the jewels weren’t found by then, the fairies would run out of their special magic completely!

Jack Frost had hoped to keep the magic jewels for himself. But when their magic had started to melt his ice castle, he had gotten very angry. He cast a spell to throw the gems far into the human world. Then he sent his mean goblins to guard them, so the fairies couldn't get them back.

Rachel and Kirsty had already helped three of the Jewel Fairies track down their magic gems. But there were still four jewels left to find!

"Do you think we'll find another jewel today?" Rachel whispered as she and Kirsty ran up to the store.

"I hope so," Kirsty replied.

A small boy and his mom were looking at the display in the store window. There were colorful lanterns and two mannequins wearing Halloween costumes. One was dressed as a witch, and the other as a goblin.

Suddenly, the boy gasped. "Mom! Did you see that?" he cried. "That goblin costume just moved!"
