

Why not have a rainforest party? Here are some ideas to get you started.

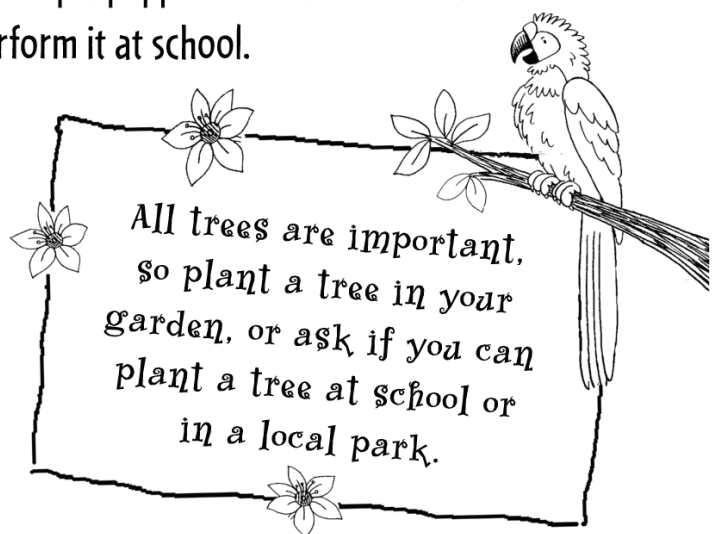

- Decorate the party room to look like a rainforest, or better still, have your party outdoors.
- Serve chocolate-covered bananas, using organic* ingredients.
(*Organic foods are grown in a way that preserves the environment.)
- Ask each of your guests to find out fun facts about a rainforest animal. What does it look like? What does it eat? How does it move? Then give the other guests clues so they can guess what the animal is.
- Make sock puppets of rainforest animals. Use old socks, scraps of fabric, ribbons, buttons and wool. Make up a puppet show about the rainforest. Ask your teacher if you can perform it at school.

Question:

What does a rainforest anteater eat?

Answer:

Ants, of course - 50,000 of them every day!

RAINBOW magic