Gobbling Goblin

'I can't believe it's Sunday already!' Kirsty Tate said, glancing at her best friend Rachel Walker. They were in the Walkers' kitchen, wrapping sandwiches in plastic bags. 'And mum and Dad are coming to fetch me tonight,' Kirsty added. 'Hasn't this week gone quickly?'

'Yes, it has,' Rachel agreed. 'That's because we've been busy looking for the fairies' Fun Day Flags!'

Just then Mr Walker hurried in, carrying a large wicker picnic basket. Rachel stopped talking immediately and grinned at Kirsty. Nobody else knew that the two girls had a magical secret: they were friends with the fairies!

For the last week the two girls had been trying to find the missing Fun Day Flags and return them to the seven Fun Day Fairies. The flags were very important because the fairies used their magic to make every day of the week fun. Naughty Jack Frost and his goblin servants had stolen the flags, but the flags' special magic meant that the goblins had fun all the time instead of working. Jack Frost had become so annoyed that he cast a spell and banished the flags to the human world. However, his cheeky goblin servants had missed having fun so much that, unknown to Jack Frost, they had sneaked away to try and get the flags back.

'Let's pack the food girls,' said Mr Walker, putting the picnic basket on the table. 'We want to get off early so that we can make the most of this sunny weather.'
