Book: Danni the Drum Fairy

Extra-Exciting

'Bye girls, I'll see you later,' said Mrs Tate. 'Have fun!'

'We will,' Kirsty Tate replied, smiling. She leaned through the car window to kiss her mum goodbye. 'Thanks for the lift. Bye!'

'Goodbye!' echoed Rachel Walker, Kirsty's best friend. Both girls waved as Mrs Tate drove away. Kirsty looked up at the warehouse building they were standing in front of, and grinned at Rachel. 'What are we waiting for?' she said. 'Let's get inside!'

Rachel's eyes were bright as she slipped an arm through Kirsty's. 'I can't believe we're actually going to be in a pop video!' she said happily. 'As if this holiday wasn't already brilliant enough!'

The two girls walked through tall double doors into the warehouse, feeling bubbly with anticipation. Rachel was staying with Kirsty's family for a week over the half-term holiday, and on the very first day the girls had found themselves in another of their wonderful fairy adventures. This time they had been helping the Music Fairies find their Magical Musical Instruments, which had been stolen by naughty Jack Frost and his goblins. So far the girls had helped the Music Fairies find three of the instruments, but there were still four missing.

Today, Kirsty and Rachel were in for a very different kind of adventure, though. Kirsty felt dizzy with excitement as she thought about it again. She and Rachel were so lucky to be here.

They were both big fans of Juanita, the pop star who had shot to fame last year when she'd won the National Talent Competition. And now Juanita was making a new video for her new song right here in Wetherbury!

Not only that, but Mrs Tate's friend, Mandy, had been hired as the make-up artist for the video shoot...and she's asked if Kirsty and Rachel would like to appear in the video as extras! Both girls were so excited and had been practicing their routine at home as much as possible.

Kirsty's and Rachel's legs were trembling as they walked into the warehouse. They found themselves in a smart lobby area, with a reception desk plus a couple of bright red sofas. VIDEO SHOOT THIS WAY read a sign on the far wall, with an arrow pointing along the corridor.

'That's us,' Rachel said, nudging Kirsty as she read the sign. There was a friendly looking woman behind the reception desk, who smiled at the girls as she approached. 'Hi,' Kirsty said.

'Great,' the woman said, passing over a visitor's book. 'If you could just sign in, I'll get someone to take you to the dressing rooms.'
