

Series: The Party Fairies

Book: Grace the Glitter Fairy

A Party Afoot

‘Isn’t it a beautiful day?’ Kirsty Tate said happily, looking up at the deep blue sky. ‘I’m so glad you’re staying here for a whole week., Rachel.’

‘Kirsty was sitting on the grass in the Tates’ back garden, making a daisy chain with her best friend, Rachel Walker. Pearl, Kirsty’s black and white kitten, was snoozing in a patch of sunshine in the middle of the path.

‘You know, Rachel,’ Kirsty went on, picking another daisy. ‘This is the perfect day for-’

‘A party!’ Rachel broke in, knowing exactly what Kirsty was going to say. Kirsty nodded, a frown on her face. ‘Let’s hope horrid Jack Frost’s goblins don’t spoil someone’s special day.’

‘The Party Fairies will do their best to stop them,’ Rachel replied in a determined voice. ‘And so will we.’

Rachel and Kirsty had a wonderful secret which no one else in the whole human world knew about. They were best friends with the fairies! So far, the girls had helped the Rainbow Fairies and the Weather Fairies against Jack Frost’s evil spells.

Now it was the turn of the Party Fairies.

Read the rest of Grace the Glitter Fairy to find out what magic happens next!

www.rainbowmagic.co.uk