Book: Harriet the Hamster Fairy

Hamster-Sitting

‘Here we go,’ Kirsty Tate said to her best friend, Rachel Walker, turning the key in the back door of her neighbours’ house. ‘Nibbles! Time for breakfast!’ she called, as the door swung open.

‘Just wait until you see him,’ she said to Rachel with a grin. ‘He’s adorable. I love hamster-sitting!’

Kirsty’s neighbour, Jamie Cooper, had asked Kirsty to feed Nibbles, his little orange and white hamster, while he and his parents were away. She has said yes, immediately.

‘We just need to top up his food and water,’ Kirsty told Rachel. ‘And if we’re lucky, he might eat his sunflower seeds out of our hands!’

‘How sweet!’ Rachel said. ‘Where’s his cage?’
‘Over here,’ Kirsty replied, heading into the lounge.

An excited feeling bubbled up inside Rachel as she followed her friend. This was another pet that they were going to see, after all, and over the last few days, she and Kirsty had had some very exciting pet adventures!

Rachel was staying with Kirsty’s family for a whole week, and on the very first day of her holiday, the two girls had met the Pet Keeper Fairies of Fairyland! The fairies had asked Rachel and Kirsty for their help. Jack Frost had wanted a pet of his own but in Fairyland, pets choose their owners and none of them had chosen Jack Frost. He had been so annoyed by this that he had stolen the Pet Keeper Fairies’ magical pets for himself!
