

Series: The Pet Keeper Fairies

Book: Penny the Pony Fairy

A Pony Ride

'Off we go, Jet!' Kirsty Tate shook the reins and Jet, the handsome black pony she was riding, set off along the forest trail. She grinned over at her friend Rachel Walker who was sitting on a chestnut mare called Annie. The two girls had come for an afternoon's pony ride at Bramble Stables. 'This is the perfect day for riding,' Kirsty said happily, feeling the warm sun on her face.

'And the perfect way to end our holiday together,' Rachel agreed. The girls exchanged a secret smile.

Rachel had been staying with Kirsty's family for the whole of the half-term break, and they'd had a very exciting time helping the fairies of Fairyland! Jack Frost had stolen all of the Pet Keeper Fairies' magical pets. This was because, in Fairyland, pets choose their owners themselves, and no pet had ever chosen Jack Frost. In a rage, the naughty fairy had taken the Pet Keeper Fairies' magic pets to his ice castle.

Luckily the clever pets had managed to escape but they then got lost in the human world. Rachel and Kirsty had spent their half-term holiday rescuing the pets before Jack Frost's sneaky goblin servants could capture them again. So far, the girls had rescued the six of the seven missing pets.

'We still need to find Penny the Pony Fairy's pet pony,' Kirsty said, thinking aloud. 'I really hope we can rescue her before you go home, Rachel.'

Rachel nodded. 'Well, we're definitely in the right place to spot her,' she said. 'This is pony heaven!'

Read the rest of Penny the Pony Fairy and out what magic happens next!

www.rainbowmagic.co.uk