Spring into Sport

'What shall we do after lunch, Kirsty?' asked Rachel Walker, as she finished her apple.

Kirsty Tate, Rachel's best friend, grinned. 'You know what I'd really like to do?' she replied. 'I'd like to find Naomi the Netball Fairy's Magic Netball!'

Rachel and Kirsty shared a very special secret. While holidaying on Rainspell Island, the two girls had become friends with the fairies, and now Rachel and Kirsty always helped out whenever there was a problem in Fairyland.

'Remember what Queen Titania told us,' Rachel reminded Kirsty. 'We have to let the magic come to us.'

'I know, but I'm feeling really impatient today,' Kirsty replied. 'If we don't find all the Magic Sporty Objects before I go home in a few days time, Jack Frost and his goblins will win the Fairyland Olympics Cup!'

The Fairyland Olympics were due to take place at the end of the week, but mean Jack Frost had stolen the Sporty Fairies' seven Magic Sporty Objects. These magical objects made sure that sport was fun and exciting, as well as played fairly, in both the human world and Fairyland. But Jack Frost wanted his goblin servants to cheat their way to victory in the Fairyland Olympics, using the magic of the Sporty Objects to win every single event. He had sent the goblins into the human world to keep the magic objects hidden away and to practice their sports.

But Rachel and Kirsty had promised the Sporty Fairies that they would try to get the seven objects back before the fairy games began.
